

SITL show shortly

Provence "shows its muscles"!

The SITL (Semaine Internationale du Transport et de la Logistique – International Week of Transport and Logistics) will meet again in Villepinte in North Paris for this important event in the logistics and transport field. Between March 23 and 26 this year, Provence Promotion will take advantage of the opportunity to "show its muscles" and once again promote the Bouches-du-Rhône and its attractiveness to all professionals in the sector.

> All heavyweights in the sector !

More than ever before, SITL Europe offers all international freight transport and logistics users an exhaustive access to all products and services related to distribution and procurement. Participants come from around the world fully intending to benefit from this show to discover the latest trends in services and infrastructures available to them.

> An XL project...

Provence Promotion is planning to present the department's accommodation capability and the most recent projects currently being finalised such as Fos 2XL, extension of the containers cluster planned to be opened for service in 2011. The Bouches-du-Rhône Economic Development Agency will benefit from the support of its partners attending the Grand Port de Marseille stand alongside the Agency.

> Two major "tools"...

Provence Promotion will work alongside Euroméditerranée, CNR, Vaucluse Développement, SAN (New Town Association) West Provence, Marseille airport and the PACA Logistics Cluster, to promote Provence's capabilities and business experience in the logistics field. It has two major "tools" for this purpose, firstly intermodal transport (sea, rail, air, road and river) and professionals already located in the region such as IKEA, Katoen Natie, Norbert Dentressangle, Lorafret, EGL, SDV, Daher...
