

Transport Logistic (Munich) shortly

To conquer the East...

Provence Promotion participe pour la deuxième fois à Transport Logistic le salon de la logistique, de la télématique et du transport qui se déroule à Munich du 12 au 15 mai prochains. L'agence fera la promotion de notre territoire en compagnie de nombreux partenaires locaux réunis sur le stand de l'agence Ubifrance.

> Under the Ubifrance flag...

Obviously and for the first time, the Ubifrance agency has organised a French collective to bring together the live forces of the sector. Therefore Provence Promotion took this opportunity to promote the logistics activity of its region with German and Eastern European Companies. It will use the "striking force" and "seduction advantages" of other regional partners (Vaucluse Développement, PACA Logistics Cluster, Marseille Airport, Euroméditerranée) who will contribute their know how in the logistics and freight transport field.

> ... To accelerate the reputation...

With this second participation, Provence Promotion is clearly displaying its intention to diversify its action to look for new European logistics and transport players, who might be interested in setting up their activities in Provence. The agency will be supported by an external consultant at this event, so that the maximum numbers of meetings can be held with previously identified prospects.

> With a CV to match all desires!

Obviously, Provence Promotion's arguments will not fail to mention the success stories obtained with leaders in the field (Katoen Natie, Norbert Dentressangle, Lorafret, EGL, SDV, Daher, etc.) who are already working in Provence.

It will then present the existing real estate and available land to host new companies, without forgetting to mention the inescapable and unique multimode territory rich with a large network of road, railway, sea, river and air transport. With all these assets, our region has everything to whet the appetite of experts and specialists in the field from all continents attending Munich fair ...
